Obituary for Dr Albagir Alafif

With Profound sadness we mourn the death of Dr Albagir Alafif the founder and director of Alkhatim Adlan Centre for Enlightenment, Human Rights Defender and Civil Rights Activist a tireless champion for human rights and civil liberties. Dr Elbagir dedicated his life to advocate for social justice, equality, and defending democratic values the rights of marginalized communities, leaving an indelible mark on the fight for human dignity, and peace.

Justice Africa Sudan worked closely with Alkhatim Adlan centre under ALbagir leadership in very difficult time during the government of National congress Party (NCP) he never surrender or cave, I driven by a passion for creating a more equitable society. Throughout his engagement he worked with Sudanese civic movement, where played a pivotal role in enlightening young Sudanese during the dark ages of the National Islamic Front (NCP) rule. He fought the Pancreas cancer for long time and that never deter him from continue working hard to defend the values he strongly believes and engaging with other activists in their endeavour to end the ongoing war and the suffering its causes to millions of Sudanese.

Sudanese civil society and activists will miss Dr Albagir and his valuable contribution, I hope his soul rest in peace, we extend our condolence to his family, friends, and Sudanese civil society activists and human rights defender, His legacy will remain,

(: you lived your life like a candle in the wind never fading with the Sunset when the rain set in)

REST IN PEACE
